S. PARKER of Calgary and South Edmonton is opening a flour and feed business at Wetaskiwin. Mr. Connors of South Edmonton in charge. He is shipping a car of Edmonton flour and a car of oats on Tuesday's train.

The train going south from Prince Albert on Monday stuck in a cut at Hanley 35 miles south of Saskatoon. The snow is 10 to 12 feet deep in the cut and hard as a rock. A relief train started from Regina last Saturday. It is stuck two miles south of Bonington which is 13 miles from Hanley, and is not expected to reach Bonington to-day. The passengers on the Prince Albert train are said to be on half rations.

A RUMOR was current in town on Wednesday night last. W. HUNAWAT was driving a wagon and team rapidly up Jasper avenue and at the H. B. store, turned to go down Third street. As the wagon was making the turn the front wheel struck a stump and threw Hunawat out, the hind wheels passing over him, without hurting him however. The horses ran down Third street and finally halted. The driver was brought to town, and is being treated this afternoon before Insp. Chalmers and J. A. McQuinn, J. P.'s. The injured man is able to walk, but is suffering considerably. The shooting appears to have been the wind up of a drunken family quarrel.

At a meeting of half breeds of St. Albert settlement held at Samuel Cunningham's place on Tuesday last week it was decided to re-open the question of additional land for the half breed children, that is children born before the 1st of July, 1870, on the date of the transfer to the half breed children, and the date of the first issue of Canada, and 1885, the date upon which the first issue of land to Northwest half breeds was made. A petition to the St. Albert settlement was forwarded by J. P. Davie, this subject had been placed in the hands of D. W. Davie, M. P. for Alberta, some years ago to be forwarded by him to the government, but nothing had been heard of it. It was decided to open direct communication with ever half breed settlement in the country on the subject with a view of securing joint action. The meeting was conducted entirely in the Cree language.

FRASER LUTED and Baptiste Fortier arrived from Fort Chipewyan on Friday by way of Lac la Biche. They left Chipewyan on March 20th. The weather was very cold at Chipewyan during the latter end of January and cold at Fort Chipewyan during the latter end of January and cold at Fort Chipewyan during the latter end of January.

There was no suffering however, as thermometers froze. There was no suffering however, as thermometers froze. There was no suffering however, as thermometers froze.

The deer of the Sturgeon Grande cause closer is good. The deer of the Sturgeon Grande cause closer is good. The deer of the Sturgeon Grande cause closer is good.

They had been known to in fifteen years and numbers of them were killed by hunters from Chipewyan. Rabbits are numerous and lynx are becoming numerous. A good fur trade is being made. Lynx will certainly be a very numerous next winter. Moose. Luted and Fortier will return north as soon as the Athabasca opens.

When the grading of the streets of Edmonton was commenced last summer many people had grave doubts as to the usefulness of the work. Certainly when heavy rains fell on the newly stirred soil and converted the whole surface into the most sticky mud more harm than good seemed to have been done. But the experience of this spring has demonstrated most satisfactorily the use of the grade. Wherever the streets have been graded as they are now dry, and indeed were dry almost as soon as the snow went off. There and before the trails are simply mud, water and mire. With the amount of travel using Main street this season it would now be in a terrible condition were it not for the grading.

IMMIGRATION ACCOMMODATION.

When the rush of immigration to Edmonton commenced last spring it found the immigration department thoroughly unprepared to offer any temporary accommodation to the immigrants, such as is usual and necessary, under the circumstances. After the necessity of the season was chiefly over and after a great deal of uncertainty and fussing a little 7x9 shed was built near the station, and one or two large tents were supplied. The town of Edmonton also provided an immigration building and tent at considerable expense. These accommodations were sufficient for the requirements of the latter part of the season when the weather was fine and the rush was not great. It was well known even last season that the rush this spring would greatly exceed that of last year, there was no reason to suppose that it would not start as soon and there was no assurance that spring would open any earlier than usual. Notwithstanding all this no move was made in proper time to provide the accommodation that every one knew would be urgently needed. Indeed less than nothing was done, for while the shed has not been interfered with the tents that were much more useful than the shed have been taken away. The town of Edmonton has gone out of the immigration business. The spring is more backward than last year and we have nearly a train a day of immigrants and effects coming in, without a finger being lifted by the immigration department to provide them with temporary accommodation. The residents of South Edmonton have at their own expense put up a little building which gives more accommodation than the government building, but this is not enough. The result of this lack of accommodation is not beneficial to the immigrants or to the interests of immigration, and should be remedied promptly. Expensive buildings are not needed or wanted. A supply of common "A" tents with a sheet iron stove for each on hand during the coming week, would be better than a $40,000 building erected next fall. If cotton tents cannot be procured lumber shanties could be put up in large numbers at a nominal cost, and would answer immediate requirements better than nothing. This energetic immigration department and phenomenally pushing new minister of interior of ours should get a move on them for once and meet the emergency that has arisen in prompt practical fashion.

TRAIN ARRIVALS.

The following trains arrived at Edmonton within the past eight days:

Special Sunday, April 2nd: Settlers effects—3 cars from Gretna, Manitoba, 1 from Montreal, 1 from Elmira, Ontario, 1 from Seabaw, Ontario, and one from Truro, Nova Scotia, One colonist car, and 5 cars merchandise.

Regular Monday, April 3. Ordinary passengers and merchandise.

Special Wednesday, April 5th: Two colonist coaches, 3 cars stock and effects from Huntingdon, B. C., 1 car stock and effects from Kentbridge, Ontario, 1 car horses and effects, Chatham, Ontario, 1 car horses, Centralia, Ontario, 1 car horses, Regina.

Regular Thursday, April 6th: Ordinary passengers and merchandise.

Special Friday, April 7th: 2 cars stock and effects from Gretna, Manitoba, for Leduc station, 20 miles south, 1 car stock, Douglas, Ontario, 1 car stock and effects, Gretna, Manitoba; Caboose with colonists, and 7 cars merchandise, including wagons, buggies, lumber and flour.

Special Saturday, April 8: 10 cars merchandise and 1 car of settlers effects. The merchandise included a car of seed wheat for the agricultural society.

The cars billed from Gretna, Manitoba are really from Dakota and Nebraska, and those billed from Huntingdon, B. C., are really from Washington but these are the points at which they enter Canada. Six trains in seven days including 17 cars of settlers effects, is not a bad record for the terminal station only of a branch road that was not expected to find use for two trains a week. And be it remembered this is not due to any blockade on the road for no part of it has been blocked.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Bulletin. Sir—Hauling logs and hay last week and getting ready for spring work this week has prevented an earlier reply to Vindel's letter. I should have assumed that you would not have afforded space for empty personalities, unnamed. I wrote about broken glass, Vindel enlarges about empty bottles. What Vindel calls "scavenging" would in the country be considered a simple and natural act of humanity. Britishers cateem horses, and many of those who ride or walk for pleasure would "ex proprio motu" shift broken glass or the like from off the highway.

As you gave space to Vindel to express wonder whether I prefer a full bottle to an empty one (neither of which were subjects of my letter) I beg to relieve his wonder by saying that if the quality and age of the contents are such as I have used for years, I would value the full bottle; otherwise it would be valueless for personal use.

With reference to crossings of the river which at times are dangerous, there are several crossings, and the "proprietor of the ferry" cannot be on both sides of all of them.

I am glad to hear from Vindel that "the conditions of roads and bridges are regularly reported by patrols." Last summer and fall two bridges on a much used track south of Mr. Fulton, senior, were in a very bad state, and no settler would say "he liked it that way."

Despite Vindel's "Cacothas scribendi" he has omitted the salient point of my letter, as to prevent through one from the N. W. M. P. and gets pounds sterling instead of one dollar note. In the Dominion there do not seem to be good or early prospects of promotion for the many members of the force who want it.

There was not one line in my letter of the 20th ult., in any way reflecting on the N. W. M. P. whose work is in every way valuable and efficiently performed. Country property would probably fall 50 per cent in value if the force were removed.

Vindel is correct in inferring that I am a "lenderfoot." A bullet in my right instep and a tomahawk cut over my right ankle crippled my off hind foot when I was an outside settler 35 years ago. J. F. K.

Free Press, April 4: "James Galsden, of Schuyler, Nebraska, U.S., immigration agent, arrived in Winnipeg Saturday last, having in charge ninety persons, all from his vicinity in Nebraska. They are, principally, early settlers of that state, who have recently sold their farms at prices ranging from $30 to $41 per acre, and have with them $20,000 in hard cash, besides seventeen carloads of effects, consisting of sixty-eight fine large horses, and household goods and farming tools, worth $1,000 a car. In addition to this, their cattle and some horses will be driven northward as soon as grass starts, this last-mentioned stock being worth $15,000 to $18,000 apiece. Eighty of this party go to Old Station, fifty-eight miles north of Calgary." This party arrived at Olds on Friday last.

The first number of a paper called the Tocsin, published in Washington city, under the patronage of the Hon. Leland Stanford, has reached this office. It advocates irredeemable paper currency as a cure for all present financial ills. In backing up its arguments it asks some startling questions such as: "Why has the net income of the producers been gradually lowering for the past twenty-five years while the non-producer's income is growing larger? Why are thousands of foreign laborers used in our country under contract, when we have 3,000,000 American citizens seeking employment? Why do people in Kansas burn corn for fuel and miners in Pennsylvania starve for want of bread when there is such convenient facilities for transportation?"

Mayor Lucas of Calgary, immigration agent of the Northwest government in Toronto, sent to a New reporter recently, in answer to the question: "What people make the best settlers?" "Canadians and Americans by all odds. Assisted Europeans are the last people we want in the Northwest. They come out there and instead of settling on land they hang around the tavern. Our experience is that the class of Europeans whose fare is paid is no good—that is the bulk of them. Lots of good people come from the Old Country, but they pay their fares. The class that come from the slums of Old Country cities have no money, know nothing about farming and are of no benefit to us."

A Prince Albert despatch to the Free Press dated April 2nd says: "The first train to arrive here for over three weeks came in last night, having been since Wednesday slowly working its way from Regina. There are still piles of snow on the track about one hundred miles north of Regina. Over fifty sacks of mail, twenty-one days overdue, were brought in but no passengers. A large number of Prince Albert people are still waiting at Regina to return home."

J. G. Fitzgerald immigration agent of the Northwest government in Washington, has returned to Calgary. He met with strong opposition, but is confident that a very large number of people will remove to Alberta this season. He places the figure at four or five thousand. Wheat in Alberta is worth 45c to 48c a bushel, and land runs at $5 to $6 an acre. Consequently times are hard amongst farmers and prospects not good. The winter was very severe with a heavy snow fall.

The Toronto News says of the efforts made to induce Canadians settled in the United States who have been unsuccessful to return to the Northwest. "It would show a deplorable want of enterprise if the opportunity thus presented were allowed to slip. These men are by long odds the best class of settlers, ready-witted and resourceful, and they have been taught by bitter experience that Canada is the best country yet. They are most emphatically the men we want."

Free Press: "Capt. Young, inspector of customs here, has received word from Ottawa that the Chicago paper called The Saturday Blade, has been placed on the black list and will not be allowed to enter Canada. Orders are given to destroy all the papers and impose a penalty of $200 on any persons importing such into Canada."

F. W. King will have charge of the Canadian side of the Alaska boundary commission, which will be proceeded with this year. He will have about 100 men. The expedition will start about May 1st. Prof. Mendell will have charge of the United States commission.

Tribune, Calgary, April 5: Mr. Thompson began sowing wheat on his farm just north of Calgary on Monday. The land was in splendid condition, and there were a number of grasshoppers through the fields.

The Free Press of a recent issue has a scare article on the unhealthy state of the city of Winnipeg. Typhoid, scarlet fever and diphtheria are prevalent and the city is very dirty.
